"A teacher is a gardener in the garden of God . . ."

— Rabbi Kalonymus Kalman Shapira z"l

In 1921, a small group of enterprising pioneers founded Boston Hebrew Teachers College to ensure that the Jewish community would be sustained by the highest quality Jewish education. They understood the profound difference that one teacher can make. They understood the exponential difference that generations of teachers would make.

Since then, Hebrew College has made a difference in countless lives. Amidst the momentous changes of the last century, we have courageously adapted and evolved, while standing consistently for Jewish literacy and creativity, deep content and caring community, a place in history and a sense of hope.

Today, Hebrew College is an innovative national center for Jewish learning and leadership and a rich and vibrant community of teachers and students.

This spring, we celebrate the power of education as a source of hope in our lives.

We celebrate our visionary honorees who have helped plant the seeds of teaching and learning that will bear fruit for generations to come.

HONOREES

Mark Atkins and Miho Sato

Mark Atkins is a retired entrepreneur and longtime volunteer at Hebrew College. In 1990, he co-founded Vality Technology, Inc., a Big Data software company, where he served as Chairman and CEO until 2002, when Ascential Software (IBM) acquired the company. From 2002 until 2012, he served as Chairman and CEO of Invention Machine Inc., a global innovation software system that was acquired by IHS. From 2013 until 2018, he served as an adjunct professor at the University of Massachusetts-Boston College of Management, where he taught Entrepreneurial and Global Strategic Marketing courses to MBA and undergraduate students. Over the past decade, he has also served as a board director, consultant, and mentor to several technology companies.

Mark is a member of the Board of Overseers of Brigham and Women's Hospital in Boston. He is a past Chairman of the Board of Trustees at Hebrew College and a former board member of the University of Massachusetts Foundation, the Jewish Community Center of Greater Boston, and The Vilna Shul. He is also a former trustee of the American Jewish Committee (AJC) New England, and served on the AJC National Board of Governors from 2015 until 2018. He was an honoree and recipient of the Vilna Visionary Leadership Award, as well as the recipient of the Distinguished Business Leader Award by the University of Massachusetts College of Management. In May 2017, Mark delivered the keynote address at the College of Management Convocation for the University of Massachusetts-Boston School of Management. In 2019, he received an honorary doctorate degree from Hebrew College. Mark received his MBA from Babson College and his BA from the University of Massachusetts-Boston, where he set up The Mark E. Atkins Scholarship Endowment.

Miho Sato is a classically trained soprano singer and licensed broker. She graduated from Hokkaido University in Sapporo, Japan, and studied at the Boston University Opera Institute. In 2004, she founded Urban Realty Group, which primarily served the Japanese community in Greater Boston. Her company was acquired by a publicly traded Japanese relocation company in 2014. She assists her partner, Mark Atkins, in managing their real estate holdings. She also continues to perform in classical concerts in Japan and Boston. She is the mother of two adult children, Akiba and Sarah.

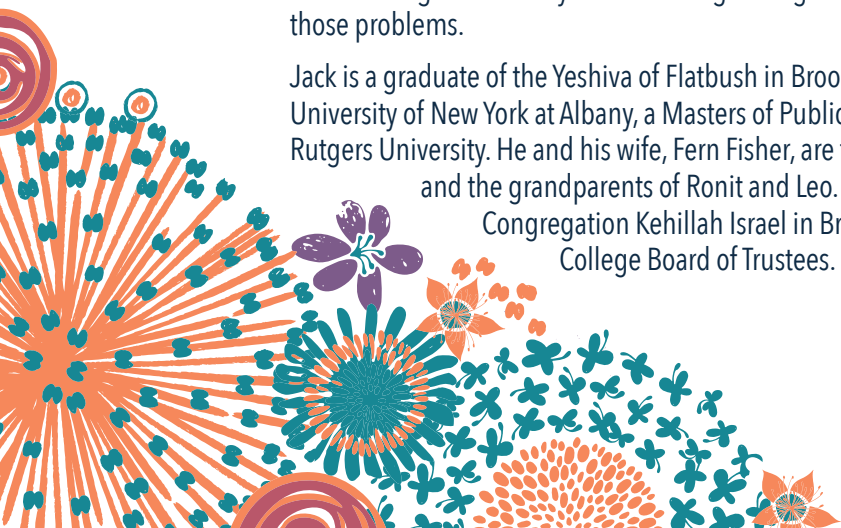

Jack Eiferman

Jack Eiferman is an attorney at the Boston-based law firm of Goulston & Storrs. Over the past four decades, he has worked on a wide range of legal issues that face businesses and nonprofit organizations, including many in the health care, education, cultural, and trade association sectors. Jack is a past Chair of the Boston Bar Association's Tax-Exempt Committee and served on the Committee of the Boston Bar Association that last revised the nonprofit corporation laws.

He is the author of several chapters in the Massachusetts law treatise for nonprofit corporations, which is used as a guide for lawyers concerning the legal challenges faced by practitioners and solutions to those problems.

Jack is a graduate of the Yeshiva of Flatbush in Brooklyn, New York. He received a BA from The State University of New York at Albany, a Masters of Public Health from Yale University, and a JD from Rutgers University. He and his wife, Fern Fisher, are the parents of Bennett, Julia, and Reva, and the grandparents of Ronit and Leo. They are members of Temple Beth Zion and Congregation Kehillah Israel in Brookline. Jack is also the secretary of the Hebrew College Board of Trustees.

Deborah Feinstein

Deborah Feinstein was a museum director/educator/curator for over 25 years. With her first graduate degree in Islamic art from Harvard University, Deborah lectured on religious, historical, and cultural connection of the three major religions through the visual arts in numerous universities and museum venues. She was also the Director/ Curator of the Holyoke Museum in Holyoke, Mass., as well as an educational consultant for exhibits at the Springfield Museum of Art in Springfield, Mass. Working for an international exhibit design firm, Christopher Chadbourne and Associates, Deborah was project manager and an exhibit writer. For The Vilna Shul, Boston's Center for Jewish Culture, Deborah designed and wrote the panels for "The Boston Jewish Experience: Reconnect to the Tapestry" exhibit.

After completing the master's program in Jewish Studies at Hebrew College, Deborah has used the visual image as an interpretative tool in creating Jewish illuminated manuscripts. Her volunteer life has been full ... being president of the Board of Directors for The Vilna Shul for five years, Chair of the Capital Campaign that raised $4 million for its renovation, co-chair of numerous missions in Europe for USHMM, co-chairperson for the Wings of Memory Society of New England for the USHMM, a Hebrew College overseer and member of the Leadership council, and member of many committees at Temple Beth Elohim in Wellesley, Mass.

Myra Musicant and Howard Cohen

Myra is Treasurer of the Hebrew College Board of Trustees. After graduating magna cum laude from Smith College with a major in religion, she studied in the Near Eastern and Judaic Studies Department at Brandeis University for three and a half years while in graduate school. She received a master's degree from the Simmons Graduate Program in Management. She obtained her CPA and had seven years' experience with the firm of Coopers & Lybrand. Myra was a member of the Board of Trustees at the Solomon Schechter Day School of Boston, serving as Treasurer and First Vice President. She is an alumna of the Me'ah program at Hebrew College. Myra has dedicated her life to volunteering in non-profit organizations. Currently, she is a hospice volunteer at Hebrew SeniorLife.

Howard Earl Cohen is the founder and Chair of the Board of Beacon Communities LLC. He serves on the boards of the Massachusetts Housing Investment Corporation, Massachusetts Housing Finance Agency Advisory Committee, and the Department of Housing and Community Development Housing Preservation Advisory Committee. Howard holds a BA summa cum laude in economics from Washington University of St. Louis and a JD cum laude from Harvard Law School. He also co-founded and served as Chair of the Board of New Lease for Homeless Families. He serves as chair of the real estate committees at both Hebrew College and Hebrew SeniorLife. He chaired the community committee that resulted in the creation of Jewish Arts Collaborative and served as its initial board chair.

Myra and Howard are both active members of Temple Beth Zion in Brookline, where they have proudly helped the congregation grow from 50 to 350 members. At various times, they have served as Board Chair, President, and staff members. They have been married for 48 years and have three married children and seven grandchildren, all of whom live in the Greater Boston area.

WITH GRATEFUL RECOGNITION OF THE PROJECT DEVELOPMENT TEAM FOR OUR NEW CAMPUS

Pam Goodman, Development

The role of the developer is to present a proposed development to the public, obtain the required permits, and coordinate all the other professionals necessary to plan, build, and occupy a property. No one does this better than Pam. In her forty-year career, Pam has developed over seventy-five properties consisting of over 10,000 apartments. She has an extraordinary ability to listen, learn, respond, and implement.

Paul Bouton, Legal Counsel

Hidden in every multi-use, mixed ownership development is a complex legal structure. No one in Boston builds these structure better than Paul. Paul, working with Liz Ross, the counsel for the Temple, created a unique form of condominium ownership that responds to a complex mix of exclusive and shared spaces required by the use of the property by the College and the Temple.

Karen Dubrovsky, Architect

Karen and her architectural firm PCA are known for their ability to design functional yet exciting places. The mix of multiple users of the Temple space required her to “shoehorn” a lot of uses into a confined space and satisfy many constituents. Karen brought her patience, communication skills, and artistic eye to this task and we believe that the result will be an amazingly beautiful addition to the Jewish community.

Isabel Acuna, Construction Manager

Someone has to make sure that what others have planned can be built on price and in time. Isabel from WaypointKLA, Inc. personifies the best of the construction management skills: Exquisite attention to each detail, endless coordination of tasks, and direct but not confrontational communication.

At Hebrew College, and for the past 100 years and going forward....

"We are lovers of Torah.

We are committed to communal and social responsibility.

We are awake and aware.

We are creative.

We are committed to principled and rigorous pluralistic Jewish education."

At Hebrew College, and for the next 100 years...

"We are training Jewish leaders, professionals and lifelong learners for a world in need of healing and hope."

Thank you for being an important part of our adventurous past.

Continued gratitude for investing in our promising future, as we proudly welcome, at our new location, a collaborative campus for Jewish scholarship.

זֶה-הַיּוֹם עָשָׂה יְהוָה נִגִּילָה וְנִשְׂמְחָה בּוֹ:

This is the day that the LORD has made let us exult and rejoice on it.

I joined Hebrew College in 1990, a couple of years after relocating to Massachusetts from Israel with my family.

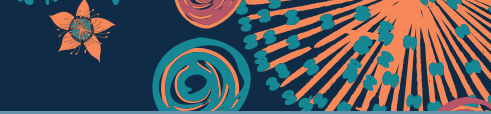

I was already married and a mother of two. I wanted to continue my college education, which I had started in Israel at Bar Ilan university, in order to acquire a profession in which I could work and contribute to my community, drawing from my own background and life experience. At Hebrew college, I met a wonderful team who provided me great support.

This amazing team helped me financially when I needed it, and even more importantly, they taught me how to think at an academic level, preparing me well for the challenges that I needed later on as a leading Jewish Educator in the greater Boston community. I had the privilege of being a student of wonderful teachers who conveyed to us both a love of teaching and an in-depth understanding of Judaism.

I graduated in 1993 and was chosen to be "valedictorian" of my class. In the twenty five years since then, I have taught in the Metro West supplement schools in Holliston, Needham, Newton, and Wellesley, and later retired in order to support my husband's business and my growing family.

Hebrew College plays many important roles, including educating teachers on how to strengthen Jewish identity within young students. I know it helped me do this with the many students that I taught, and I'm very grateful for the time I spent there and all that it taught me.

In every wilderness
On every journey
There are those who step forward with nedivut lev –
With boundless generosity of the heart –
To build something beautiful together
To create sacred community
To stitch together what has been torn.

Thank you for bringing your abundant gifts
To lift us all up, to bring healing to our world,

And to make a home for the Holy One here on earth.
It is a privilege and a joy to be on this journey with you.

We are so grateful.
