

Answer: Information Sharing Activity

The criminal was indeed Janis. She was able to perform the crime with the help of her son. Her getaway car is the car from security and the storm turns off the power for a moment, allowing the sensors to not go off. Did your group guess correctly? If so, what information was essential? How was critical information at key moments communicated? If not, what communication mishaps contributed to the incorrect answer?